

Paul V. Mifsud

Paul V. Mifsud is Vice President, Government & Legal Affairs, U.S., for KLM Royal Dutch Airlines. He has been involved with KLM's legal and government affairs for the last 24 years. He has published numerous articles and speeches and participated in many panel discussions concerning issues important to international trade, public policy, and aviation. Recently, he has published and spoken on the subject of international airline alliances. Among his numerous professional associations, he is a Member of the School of Business Administration Supervisory Board for Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University, as well as an Adjunct Professor for George Washington University. He is also Co-Chairman of the American Bar Association International Law Committee on Aviation and Aerospace. Prior to earning a law degree from Rutgers University, Paul served two years in Ethiopia as a United States Peace Corps Volunteer. Before joining the airline industry with British Airways in 1973, he was a Trial Attorney with the Bureau of Enforcement for the United States Securities & Exchange Commission. Paul is an Officer of the Netherlands Order Oranj-Nassau. This distinguished honor was bestowed upon him, on behalf of the Queen of The Netherlands, for his work in concluding the first Open Skies aviation agreement between the United States and The Netherlands.